Regulations for Registration in Language Courses

1. Each student registering in any Korean, Japanese, or Chinese language course must read and sign this form on the first day that the student attends class.

2. Students with prior knowledge of the language are required to take a placement test or to meet with the instructor for an interview. This includes heritage learners—students who speak the language and/or whose family member(s) communicate with them in the language—and students whose knowledge comes from self-study, private instruction, study at previous schools other than McGill, and Topics/Tutorial courses at McGill. Students who feel inappropriately placed are responsible for consulting with the instructor before the end of add/drop period.

3. Registration in the appropriate level language course is based upon the placement test and/or interview with the instructor. Students will be informed of their appropriate level before the first day of class.

4. If, at any time, instructors feel that a student has been placed in the wrong level, the student will be advised in writing and must meet with the instructor.

5. In the rare case that a student intentionally misrepresents his or her language level, the student will be required to change to the appropriate level language course, even after the add/drop deadline, and the matter may be referred to the Disciplinary Officer in the student's faculty.

6. Priority for East Asian language courses will be given to students in the following order: a) students registered in an East Asian Studies program; b) other Faculty of Arts students; c) students from other Faculties, on a first-come, first-served basis.

By signing and submitting this form you acknowledge that you have read and agree to the Regulations for Registration in Language Courses offered by the Department of East Asian Studies.
